

Fauci Linked to Drug Testing on Beagle Puppies

Chief medical advisor Anthony Fauci has been linked to funding experimental drug testing on Beagle puppies.

A lab in Tunisia has infected 44 Beagles with diseases causing parasites, in order to test experimental pharmaceuticals on them.

It has also been reported scientists locked the beagles in the desert for nine days, using them as bait to attract infectious sand flies. Beagles had their vocal cords removed.

White Coast Waste Project, the nonprofit organization responsible for pointing out that U.S taxpayers were funding the Wuhan Institute of Virology states: “Our investigation show that Fauci’s NIH division used part of a $375,000 grant to a lab in Tunisia to drug Beagles and lock their heads in mesh cages filled with hungry sandflies so that the insects could eat them alive”.

The FDA does not require drugs to be tested on dogs. The National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Disease did not immediately respond for comment.
