Joe Rogan Tests Positive For Covid-19

Joe Rogan announced that he tested positive for Covid-19.

> "Just to be cautious, I separated from my family, slept in a different part of the house, and throughout the night I got fevers and sweats," he said. " And I knew what was going on. So I got up in the morning, got tested – and turns out I got covid."

Rogan reported that his symptoms were mild, he only felt sick for one day, and by day three he was feeling back to normal.

Rogan reported using ivermectin to treat his symptoms, which is not an approved treatment by the FDA.

Rogan is not vaccinated and has talked openly about his hesitancy towards the vaccine. Rogan does not call himself an anti-vaxxer but is critical of vaccine mandates.

OLM does not recommend Ivermectin or other pharmaceuticals for the treatment of Covid-19, we recommend the gut health approach. For more information read this article.
